

Creating a User ID and Password with 10 digit account number structure

AVR uses 3 validation and verification points when signing up for online use.

1. Entire Account Number
2. Name
3. Service Address

The customer will choose a unique User ID and Password, and enter in the email address they want their emails going to

Your Service Address may be different than mailing address*

The example below shows on the top right of your utility bill, where the account number structure is located. You must include your ten digits account number, and district code, (the number's to the right of the account number) to sign up successfully.

Account Number	District Code
